Internet cookies

We use cookies on our website to help us establish if our website is effective and offers a good user experience to our visitors. We do this by placing a small text file on your device / computer hard drive to track how you use the website, to record or log whether you have seen particular messages that we display and to keep you logged into the website where applicable. These text files are referred to as cookies.

We also use cookies to log your IP address location. (A rough geographic location to help us establish where our website audience is located)

We also use cookies to see which pages of our website are viewed the most, at what time of day and of what day of the week. This helps us to ascertain how successful our website is and which pages are proving the most popular.

We also use cookies to log how long a user spends on specific pages of our website.

By continuing to use our website, you agree to the use of cookies as detailed above.

Your web browser should provide you with the controls to manage and delete cookies from your device, please see your web browser options.

Data security and protection

We ensure the security of any personal information we hold by using secure data storage technologies and precise procedures in how we store, access and manage that information. Our methods meet the GDPR compliance requirement.
